

INDEX TO THE HOUSE OF FORBES.

It has not been thought desirable to print, over again, the Christian name of every individual mentioned in this book, since in order to identify the hundreds of persons of such names as John, Alexander, Mary, and Jean, it would have been necessary to reduplicate whole paragraphs and trees.

The following system has, therefore, been adopted and will, it is believed, make the finding of any family and person of whom anything is known quite easy.

1. For the Lords Forbes and the chief branches, the chapter headings are to be consulted.
2. There is given a full alphabetical list of all the places in Scotland (as far as known) ever owned or inhabited by Forbeses mentioned in the book, including also places in England and abroad where any of them have lived or died.
3. An alphabetical list of all those Forbeses specially distinguished in any way and of those having unusual Christian names.
4. Lastly, a very full General Index to events, places, etc., including the surnames of all those who have intermarried with Forbeses.

FORBES OF, OR RESIDENT IN, THE FOLLOWING PLACES.

The black figures represent the principal account of each man or place.
